RedAtlas FSA offers flexible licensing options tailored to meet the diverse operational needs of various flying schools. Recognizing that each flying school operates under unique conditions and faces different challenges.

RedAtlas FSA provides three distinct license tiers. These tiers are designed to accommodate the varying levels of complexity and service requirements of small, medium, and larger flying schools. Whether a flying school needs basic functionality or comprehensive management solutions, RedAtlas ensures there is an appropriate package that fits its specific needs, allowing for scalable growth and adaptability.

RedAtlas FSA is constantly evolving to meet the needs of small and medium sized airfields. As part of the package, a demonstration site is provided, allowing all staff to familiarize themselves with the software prior to going live. In addition, a full training program, easy to use guides, and remote/telephone support ensure a smooth transition to the system.

License Options

RedAtlas FSA is available in three license tiers—Lite, Standard, and Premium—catering to the varying operational needs and complexities of different flying schools. Whether you need basic scheduling tools or advanced bookkeeping and operational management, we have the right solution for you.

Lite – ideal for smaller flying schools. This tier focuses on providing an intuitive booking calendar to streamline resource management and scheduling. Perfect for smaller schools or those just getting started, this plan covers the essentials for day-to-day organization.

Standard – this license builds on Lite with bookkeeping and availability tools, making it the ideal choice for growing schools. Manage instructor capabilities, track memberships, and simplify financial operations with integrated payment and invoicing systems.

Premium – the most comprehensive option, building on the Lite and Standard licenses, and offering advanced capabilities tailored for larger schools with more complex operational requirements. This license offers a complete suite of features; tracking prepayments, managing shop inventory, and providing instructors with a dedicated portal to oversee their schedules and students.
